

Safety tips

- Use only electrical gadgets with ISI mark and carry out all electrical works by certified electricians
- Inspect electrical wiring regularly and renew deteriorated wiring
- Hanging wet clothes on electric wires will prove fatal

- Do not go near or touch the electric poles, stay wires, fencing etc., during rainy seasons
- Do not use electric poles as support to pandals or displaying advertisement Board

- Do not secure poultries/ domestic animals to the electric poles or the stay wires.

- If any snapped electricity conductors are noticed, inform the nearest Electricity Board office, but do not touch or go near them

- Do not construct buildings near electric lines, consult the Electricity Board officials before planning for the same

- Watch your children while they are playing with kites near any electric overhead lines

- Do not go near the fencing of electrical transformers/ substations for nature's call

- Do not park lorries near transformer structure or electric line and carry out loading and unloading of materials.

- Do not drive vehicles, carry ladders etc, which are of greater height beneath the electric lines.

- During Car Festival, for running cars of higher pitch, seek the help of Electricity Board officials for ensuring the safety of the public
- While digging the ground for other works, care should be taken while working near underground electric cables.
- Electrification of fencing should not be done which can lead to loss of lives. Doing so is punishable with imprisonment

